

CARA Bulletin

22 December 2018

Lost Purse. At CARA's Carols on the Circus last evening, around 700 people enjoyed singing along to the music of The Salvation Army Band. Mulled wine was sold (all profits going to our charity collection) by the great team from Circus Restaurant on Brock Street.

Amongst all the joy, someone would have been desperately searching for their purse. The good news is that a purse has been found. If you lost your purse, or know the person who did, please make contact with CARA's Chairman on barry@barrygilbertson.com being sure to include your contact telephone number.

When we know the amount of money raised for The Salvation Army to support their work with the homeless now and throughout the year, we will announce the result. Thank you to everyone who contributed...and it is never too late to contribute a little more...contact our Chairman.

A very Merry Christmas to all our readers !
